RINATO

London, 9th october 2023 – Bert Frank, the premium British lighting brand based in London and Birmingham, had launch the Rinato range on September at London Design Festival. Inspired by Art Deco geometrical forms and early 20th century holophane refractors, Rinato (which translates to ‘reborn’ from Italian) is a sophisticated new range of decorative lighting that represents a new era and vision for the Bert Frank brand.

Featuring angular, stainless-steel powder coated light shades, solid brass structural elements and premium leather panels in complimentary finishes, Rinato is the most extensive of the brand’s core ranges to date and includes eleven different configurations across three different interior functions – table lamps, wall lights and pendants/chandeliers.

The solid brass metalwork is available in Bert Frank's four standard finishes: Brushed Brass, Antique Brass, Dark Bronze, Satin Nickel. The light shades are available in ten different colourways and the leather has five contrasting options.
